Slower Traffic Continued..

Well, this is the Fussin' & Cussin' Rally and when I heard how he was going to score the rally, I warned him that food might start flying! It ends up that the object of the rally was to come as close to a score of zero as possible! So, if you just drove and enjoyed the scenery — like a few people did — you had a very good chance of winning! A correct answer was worth +1 and an incorrect answer was worth -1. When it finally came down to it, Amy Del Mundo and her daughter pulled off the upset victory and took home the hardware! If the rally had been scored in the traditional manner the Collings would have won with Bob and I second. But this is the Fussin' & Cussin' Rally — and the rally-master is always right!

Proving that it's the rally known world-wide, Tim Turner arrived from New Zealand to be navigator for Megan Howard in this years Fussin' & Cussin'.

It's never too early for the drive-thru!
